authors' acknowledgements

Teachers in several countries were kind enough to try out sections of the draft material with their classes and send us their comments. These were extremely helpful, enabling us to make a large number of corrections and improvements. We are very grateful to the following individuals and institutions, and to their students:

- Renata Baranowska-Bogdan of Warsaw
- J A Cabo of the IES Villaviciosa, Spain
- Irena Dominiková of the Bell School, Prague
- Margarita Herrero of the IES Pedro Cerrada, Utebo, Spain
- Sumi Katsura of Tokyo University of Technology
- Eimear Kelly-Wlodarczyk of English Unlimited, Gdańsk, Poland
- Ewa Kubisz of the XIV L.O., Warsaw
- Takuro Mannen of Wako Kokusai High School, Saitama, Japan
- Maria-Jesús Martí of the IES Abat Oliba, Ripoll, Spain
- Daisy Rodrigues do Vale of the UNIT - Centro Universitário do Triângulo, Uberlândia-MG, Brazil
- Ruth Swan and the staff of The English Academy of Macerata, Italy
- Eszter Timár-Honyek of the Bell School, Budapest
- Christiane Wimmer of Munich, Germany

The book has benefited enormously from the hard work and professionalism of our editorial and design team at Oxford University Press. Our thanks to them, and to the many other OUP staff in Oxford and elsewhere who have provided help and advice. We owe a particular debt to our editor, Karl Clews, without whose meticulousness, patience, good humour and stamina this would not be nearly such a Good Grammar Book.

Finally, our thanks to Inge Bullock for keeping us organised and fed, and to our children for once again putting up with us while the writing was going on.
Who is this book for?
The Good Grammar Book is for all elementary and lower-intermediate level learners who want to improve their knowledge of English grammar.

What kind of English does the book teach?
The Good Grammar Book teaches the grammar of spoken and written British English. But it can also be used by students of American, Australian or other kinds of English – the grammatical differences are very small and unimportant.

How is the book organised?
There are 21 sections. A section covers one part of English grammar (for example: making questions and negatives; present tense verbs; problems with nouns). Each section contains a pre-test, several short units with explanations and exercises, and a ‘test yourself’ revision page.

Using the book: particular problems
If you have a particular problem with grammar (for example present tenses, the difference between should and must, or the position of adverbs), look in the index (pages 318-324) to find the right unit(s). Read the explanations and do the exercises. Check your answers in the answer key (pages 285-317).

Using the book: systematic study
If you are working without a teacher, we suggest:
1 DON’T go right through the book from beginning to end – some parts will be unnecessary for you.
2 Decide which sections you most need to study. Section 1, ‘be and have’, for example? Section 8, ‘questions and negatives’? Section 18, ‘relative pronouns’? Or other sections?
3 Choose a section, and do the pre-test at the beginning. Then look at the pre-test answers on pages 283-284. These will tell you what your problems are, and which pages to study.
4 Go to the pages that you need. Read the grammar explanations, do the exercises, and check your answers in the answer key (pages 285-317).
5 In some units there are ‘grammar and vocabulary’ exercises for students who would like to learn more words. Try these as well if you want to.
6 Go to the ‘test yourself’ page at the end of the section, and try some or all of the questions.
7 Check your answers. If you still have problems, look at the explanations again.

If you know everything in the book, will you speak perfect English?
No, sorry!
1 Not many people learn foreign languages perfectly. (And not many people need to.) But this book will help you to speak and write more correctly.
2 Books like this give short practical explanations. They cannot tell you the whole truth about English grammar. If you follow the rules in The Good Grammar Book, you will not make many mistakes. But if you want more complete information about difficult points, you need to get a higher-level book (perhaps later, when your English is more advanced).
3 Grammar is not the only important thing in a language. You also need a wide vocabulary, and – very important – you need a lot of practice in listening and speaking, reading and writing. Remember: this is a grammar practice book, not a complete English course.

We hope that you will enjoy using our book.

I have got is the same as I have.

Have you got? is the same as Do you have? (We don’t use do/does with have got.)

She hasn’t got is the same as She doesn’t have.

I’ve got a cat. (more natural than I have a cat) Has she got a dog? (NOT Does she have got …)

I haven’t got a car. She’s got a sister. You’ve got beautiful eyes. Have you got a cold?

1 Write about John’s possessions etc.

30 PRESENT TENSES
grammar summary

There are three common ways to talk about the future in English:

- with the going to structure.
  I’m really going to stop smoking.
- with the present progressive.
  I’m seeing John this evening.
- with will.
  Ann will be in the office from 10.00 till 2.00.

We use going to or the present progressive especially when the future has some present reality: for example to talk about plans that we have already made.

In some cases we can use the simple present to talk about the future.

Her train arrives at 15.37. I’ll phone you when I get home. (See page 221.)

pre-test: which units do you need?

Try this small test. It will help you to decide which units you need. The answers are on page 283.

1 Correct (√) or not (x)?

  1  ‘There’s somebody at the door.’ I go. ...
  2  Will Ann and Johnny be here tomorrow? ...
  3  I promise I write again soon. ...
  4  Look at those clouds – it will snow. ...
  5  The car won’t start. ...
  6  I’m working in London next week. ...
  7  The concert starts at 8.00 this evening. ...
  8  Mary’s going to have a baby. ...
  9  Do you play tennis with Peter this weekend? ...
  10 Do you think it’s raining tomorrow? ...
  11 I think it won’t rain. ...

‘It’s going to be wet again today.’
going to  Look – it’s going to rain.

<tr>

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

For contractions (I'm, aren't etc), see pages 2 and 277.

We often use going to when we can see the future in the present – when a future situation is starting, or clearly on the way.

Look – it’s going to rain.  Rebecca’s going to have a baby next month.

1 Look at the pictures. What is going to happen? Use the words in the box.

- She is ........................................

- The cars ....................................
- He .............................................
- The ball ....................................

- break the window
- crash
- drink coffee
- have breakfast
- play the piano
- post a letter ✓
- read a letter

We often use going to to talk about intentions – things that people have decided (not) to do. This structure is common in conversation.

I'm going to take a holiday next week.  Peter’s not going to study chemistry.
What are you going to wear this evening?  Lucy is going to go to France next year.

2 Make questions with going to.

- you / cook supper  Are you going to cook supper?
- when / your brothers / be here  When are your brothers going to be here?
- Ann / change her school .................................................................
- where / you / put that picture ...........................................................
- what / you / buy for Bill’s birthday ....................................................

➔ For more about two-word verbs (‘phrasal verbs’), see pages 138–139.

NOTE: In informal speech (and songs), we often say gonna for going to.
We can use the present progressive with a future meaning, especially when we talk about plans for a fixed time and/or place.

'What are you doing this evening?' 'I'm staying in.'

Where are you going on holiday?

Joe's coming round this evening. I'm starting a new job next week.

1 Look at Bill's diary and correct the sentences.

Contractions: I shall → I’ll  we shall → we’ll etc  shall not → shan’t

► For shall in offers, see page 86.
will: predicting  I think it will rain tomorrow.

We use will + infinitive to predict – to say things that we think, guess or know about the future, or to ask questions about the future.

I think it will snow tomorrow. Be quick, or you'll miss your train.
Ann won't be here this evening. When will you know your exam results?

Love

Susan

For present tenses after if, when etc (I'll phone you if/when I have time), see pages 221 and 229.
will: deciding, refusing, promising

We can use will when we decide or agree to do things, and when we talk about refusing (saying ‘no’) and promising. We don’t use the simple present in these cases.

OK, I really will stop smoking. She won’t speak to me. I’ll phone you. (NOT I phone you.)

Things can ‘refuse’.

The car won’t start. This pen won’t write.

We often use will at the moment when we decide something.

‘There’s someone at the door.’ I’ll go.’ (NOT I go.) ‘That’s the phone.’ I’ll answer it.’

1 Put in words from the box with ‘I’ll’ or won’t.

6 ‘Goodbye now.’ A See you tomorrow.’ B I’ll see.’
which future? will, going to or present progressive?

There are some differences between these three ways of talking about the future. The differences are not always important; often we can use two or three different forms to talk about the same thing.

PREDICTIONS

Going to: we can see the future in the present: we see things coming or starting.
Will: we think or believe things about the future.

Look out! You’re going to break that glass! (I can see it now.)
Don’t give him a watch – he’ll break it. (I think so, because I know him.)

1 Circle the best form.

Be careful, or you are going to / will fall.

3 Look – Andy is going to / will fall off his bike!
4 I think you are going to / will love Scotland.
5 Look at those clouds: it’s going to / will rain.

DECISIONS

Will: we are making decisions. Going to: decisions are already made.

‘We’ve got a letter from Jan.’ ‘OK, I’ll answer it.’
‘There are a lot of letters to answer.’ ‘I know. I’m going to do them all on Tuesday.’

2 Put in I’ll or I’m going to.

I’ve decided. I’m going to stop smoking.
1 ‘I don’t want to cook tonight.’ ‘All right, then. cook.’
2 ‘I haven’t got any money.’ ‘No? OK. pay.’
3 ‘Do you want to go out tonight?’ ‘No, wash my hair.’
4 ‘Those trousers are dirty.’ ‘Really? Oh, yes, they are. wash them.’
5 ‘Is Ann eating with us?’ ‘Wait a minute. ask her.’

PLANS

Going to and the present progressive are often both possible when we talk about plans.

We use the present progressive mostly for fixed plans with a definite time and/or place.

I’m going to see Ann some time soon. I’m meeting Pat at the theatre at 8.00.
I think John’s going to study biology. Sarah’s starting university on September 17th.

3 In three of these sentences, the present progressive is possible. Which three?
Rewrite them with the present progressive.

I’m going to fly to Glasgow tomorrow. Al’s going to tell me about his problems.

To make the present perfect, put have/has with the past participle (worked, seen, etc).
Regular past participles end in -ed, like simple past tenses (for spelling rules, see page 42).
work → worked  hope → hoped  stop → stopped  try → tried

With irregular verbs, the past participle is often different from the simple past tense.
You have to learn the forms one by one (see page 275).
see → seen  speak → spoken  go → gone  buy → bought

1 Write as many of the irregular past participles as you can. Check them on page 275, and learn the ones that you don’t know.

become  become  begin  begun  break  bring come  drink  eat  fall  forget give  hear  hold  keep  know learn  leave  let  make  pay put  read  say  shut  sit stand  take  tell  think  write

2 Write affirmative (✓) or negative (✗) present perfect sentences.

I (speak ✓) to the boss  I have spoken to the boss they (eat ✓) anything  They have not eaten anything
she (forget ✗) my address
1 I (make ✗) a mistake
3 you (shut ✗) the door

6 John (learn ✗) anything
7 I (break ✓) a cup
8 we (remember ✓) Ann’s birthday
9 The rain (stop ✗)
10 I (see ✓) a newspaper today

'Somewhere with no irregular verbs.'
We make present perfect questions with have/has + subject + past participle.

STATEMENT
- You have paid.
- The rain has stopped.
- The children have gone to Dublin.

QUESTION
- Have you paid?
- Has the rain stopped?

    4 the dogs / come back?
    5 what / Barbara tell the police?
    6 why / Andy and Sarah / bring the children?
    7 what / you / say to Mike?

Be careful when questions have long subjects - the word order does not change.

Have Ann and her mother arrived?
Have Ann and her mother and father and the others arrived?
(NOT Have arrived Ann and her mother and father and the others?)

4 Make present perfect questions.

finished actions: present perfect or simple past?

PRESENT PERFECT: WE THINK ABOUT THE PAST AND THE PRESENT TOGETHER
When we think about the past and present together, we normally use the present perfect.

I've written to John, so he knows what’s happening now.
I've made a cake. Would you like some?
Look — I’ve bought a new dress.

FINISHED ACTION → PRESENT PERFECT → PRESENT
letter (yesterday) → I’ve written to John. ← John knows now.
    cake (this morning) → I’ve made a cake. Would you like some? ← I’m offering you some now.
new dress (last Tuesday) → Look — I’ve bought a new dress. ← I’m showing you now.

SIMPLE PAST: WE THINK ONLY ABOUT THE PAST, NOT THE PRESENT
When we think only about the past, we most often use the simple past.

My grandfather wrote me a lot of letters.
(He’s dead now; I’m not thinking about the present.)
I made a cake for the children, but they didn’t like it.
(I’m not talking about the present.)
I bought a new dress for the party last Tuesday.
(I’m thinking only about last Tuesday.)

Read the sentences and the questions, and circle the correct answers.

- Ann has bought a new coat. Has she got the coat now?  YES / PERHAPS
- Grandma came to stay with us. Is Grandma with us now?  YES / PROBABLY NOT
1. I made a cup of tea. Is there tea now?  YES / PROBABLY NOT
2. Eric has made a cake. Is there a cake now?  YES / PROBABLY NOT
3. Jane went to France. Is she there now?  YES / DON’T KNOW
4. Alan has gone to Scotland. Is he there now?  YES / DON’T KNOW the place had closed down.

Doors stood wide,
windows had lost their glass,
ceilings had fallen.
Travellers had camped in the dining-room, and left their names on the walls.

Wind blew

grammar summary

| MODAL VERBS: can could may might shall should will would must (ought to) |
| PAST AND FUTURE OF MODALS: be able to have to |
| VERBS THAT ARE LIKE MODALS: used to had better needn’t |

The modal verbs are a special group of auxiliary verbs. We use them before other verbs to express certain meanings – for example permission, ability, possibility, certainty.

Modals have different grammar from other verbs. For example, they have no -s on the third person singular: we say he can, NOT he cans.

Used to, had better and needn’t are similar to modals in some ways, and they are included in this section. A less common verb – ought to – is not practised here. For will, see pages 35–37.

verbs with two objects  We were given a week.

Some verbs (for example give, lend, promise, send and show) can have two objects: a person and a thing (see page 140). If the person is last, we use to.

They gave Susan a prize. OR They gave a prize to Susan.
We sent Andy a birthday card. OR We sent a birthday card to Andy.

These verbs have two possible passive structures.
Susan was given a prize. OR A prize was given to Susan.
Andy was sent a birthday card. OR A birthday card was sent to Andy.

The structure with the person first (Susan was given ...) is very common.

1. Put the beginnings and ends together.

With passives, we are mostly interested in the action – in what happens.

The missing child has been found. The ear-rings were made in the first century BC. German is spoken in Austria. Thousands of fish were killed, but no one knows how.

If we want to say who or what does the action, we use by.

SECTION 11 articles: a/an and the

1 grammar summary

A/an shows that we are talking about one person or thing. We often use a/an:
- in descriptions
  She's an interesting person. He's got a loud voice.
- when we say what something is, or what somebody's job is
  This is a return ticket. I'm an engineer.

The usually means 'You know which one(s) I'm talking about':
Can I use the phone? (The hearer knows that this means 'your phone'.)

Nouns used without articles often have a special meaning.
I dislike cats. (This means 'all cats'.)

Most Western European languages have articles. So if you speak (for example) French, German, Spanish or Greek, you will not have too many problems with a/an and the: they are used mostly in the same way as your articles. There are a few differences: see pages 150–155. If you speak a non-Western-European language (for example Russian, Polish, Arabic, Chinese, Japanese), you may find articles more difficult. Study all of this Section, especially pages 148–149.

2 pre-test: which units do you need?

Try this small test. It will help you to decide which units you need. The answers are on page 283.

ARTICLES: A/AN AND THE
Countable nouns are words like car, book, chair. They are the names of things that you can count: you can say ‘one car’, ‘two books’, ‘three chairs’. They can be singular (a cat, one book) or plural (two chairs, lots of books).

Uncountable nouns are words like smoke, rice, water, petrol. These are things that you can’t count: you can say ‘smoke’, but not ‘one smoke’ or ‘two rices’ or ‘three waters’. Uncountable nouns are only singular. (For more information, see page 190.)

Most determiners are explained and practised in this section. A/an and the have a separate section on pages 145–158. My, your etc are explained together with pronouns on pages 182–183. Somebody, anything, nowhere etc are included here. These are not determiners, but it is more convenient to deal with them in this section.

How much milk do you want? How many languages are there in the world?

We use how much with singular (uncountable) nouns, and how many with plurals

We can use much and many without nouns if the meaning is clear.

‘Have you got any money?’ ‘Not much.’  ‘How many people were there?’ ‘Not many.’

Much and many are used mostly in questions and negatives. They are unusual in affirmative sentences. In an informal style, we prefer expressions like a lot of (see page 169).

‘Do you get much snow in winter?’ ‘Not much, but we get a lot of rain.’ (NOT ...we get much rain.)
‘Have you got many English friends?’ ‘No, I haven’t got many English friends. But I’ve got a lot of American friends.’ (NOT usually ... I’ve got many American friends.)

For too much and too many, see page 172.
For of after much and many, see page 177.
a lot of and lots of

A lot of and lots of are common in an informal style. They mean the same.

I haven’t got a lot of time just now. He’s got lots of money and lots of friends.

We can use both expressions before singular (uncountable) or plural nouns.

• a lot of / lots of + singular subject: singular verb
  A lot of his work is good. Lots of his work are good. (NOT A lot of his work are good.)

• a lot of / lots of + plural subject: plural verb
  A lot of his ideas are good. (NOT A lot of his ideas is good.) Lots of his ideas are good.

1 Circle the correct answer.

1 Lots of people have / has computers now. 4 A lot of my friends work / works in London.
2 There is / are lots of cinemas near here. 5 There is / are lots of food in the fridge.
3 Lots of snow has / have fallen today. 6 A lot of things need / needs to change.

In affirmative (✓) sentences in conversation, a lot of and lots of are more natural than much/many (see page 168).

This car uses lots of petrol. (NOT This car uses much petrol.)
We eat a lot of vegetables. (NOT We eat many vegetables.)

2 Make these expressions affirmative (✓).

not much time a lot / lots of time

1 .................................................................
2 .................................................................
3 .................................................................

If we use a lot or lots with a noun, we always use of.
If we use a lot or lots without a noun, we don’t use of.

‘Have you got a lot of work?’ (NOT ... a lot work) ’Yes, a lot.’ (NOT ’Yes, a lot of.’)
We use a little with singular (uncountable) nouns, and a few with plurals.

   7. I’d like to ask you questions.
   8. I’m having trouble with the police.
   9. The soup needs more salt.
   10. I’m going away for weeks.

---

Little and few (without a) have a rather negative meaning (like not much/many).

A little and a few have a more positive meaning (like some).

We’ve got food in the house if you’re hungry. (= ’some, better than nothing’)
There was little food in the house, so we went to a restaurant. (= ’not much, not enough’)
His lesson was very difficult, but a few students understood it. (= ’more than I expected’)

---

The lesson was so difficult that not many/only a few students understood it.

3. Make these sentences more conversational.

‘Have you got any money?’ ‘A little.’ ‘Did you buy any clothes?’ ‘A few.’

For of after little and few, see page 177.
enough money; fast enough

We put enough before singular (uncountable) or plural nouns.

Every and each; every one

Every and each mean the same. They are both used with singular nouns and verbs. Every is more common. Every/Each day brings a new problem.

We often use each when we want to say that things are separate or different. Compare:

We asked every politician the same question. Each politician gave a different answer.

We use every for three or more. We use each for two or more.

She had a ring on every finger. She had a bag in each hand. (NOT ... in every hand.)

1 Circle the best answer.

Before of (see page 177), or with no noun, we use every one, not every.

She knows every one of her students by name. (NOT ... every of her students ...)

He's got hundreds of books, and he's read every one. (NOT ... he's read every.)

2 Put in every or every one.

Every one is not the same as everyone meaning 'everybody' — see page 165.
We use both, either and neither to talk about two people or things.

Both (● + ● = 'one and the other') has a plural noun.

Either (● / ● = 'one or the other') has a singular noun.

Neither (● / ● = 'not either, not one and not the other') has a singular noun.

'Are you free on Monday or Wednesday?' 'I'm free on both days.'

'Which day is better for you?' 'Either day is OK.'

'About four o'clock?' 'No, sorry, I'm not free on either afternoon.'

SECTION 14 nouns

grammar summary

Nouns are mostly words for things and people – for example house, tree, driver, child, water, idea, lesson. Most nouns can come after the.

English nouns can be countable (we can say two houses) or uncountable (we can’t say two waters).

Countable nouns have plurals (houses), and we can use a/an with them (a house, an idea).

Uncountable nouns have no plurals, and we can’t use a/an before them.

Some English uncountable nouns are countable in some other languages (like furniture).

We can join two nouns:
- with a possessive ‘s or s’ (for example my brother’s wife, my parents’ house).
- with a preposition (for example a piece of cake).
- directly one after the other (for example chocolate cake, a shoe shop).

The differences between these three structures are hard to learn – this is one of the most difficult points in English grammar. There are some basic rules in this section.

• if + past, ... would ...
  We can use past tenses with if to show that something is not real or not probable now.
  (We normally use would in the other part of the sentence.)
  If I had more money, I would buy a car now.

• if + past perfect, ... would have ...
  To talk about unreal past events – things that did not happen – we use if + past perfect.
  (We normally use would have + past participle in the other part of the sentence.)
  I’m sorry you had all those problems. If you had asked me, I would have helped you.

240 RELATIVE PRONOUNS
leaving out relative pronouns

When a relative pronoun (who/which/that) is the object of the following verb, we often leave it out. But we can't leave out a relative pronoun when it is the subject of the following verb.

(I phoned a man.)
The man that I phoned spoke Spanish.
→ The man I phoned spoke Spanish.
(A man phoned me.)
The man that phoned me spoke Greek.
→ The train that you want leaves at 10.00.
→ The train you want leaves at 10.00.
(NOT The man phoned me spoke Greek.)
(NOT The train stops at York goes at 8:00.)

1 Is the relative pronoun the subject (S) or object (O) of the following verb?
   ▶ the woman who wrote this letter
   ◀ the film that I saw
   1 the languages that she spoke ...
   2 a woman who helped me ...
   3 a man who(m) I helped ...
   4 the weather that we have had ...
   5 a machine that makes paper ...

   1 ........................................
   2 ........................................
   3 ........................................
Some verbs have prepositions with them (see page 136) – for example look at, listen to. When relative pronouns are the objects of these verbs, there are two possibilities:

- preposition before whom/which (very formal)

  The woman smiled. I was looking at her. → The woman at whom I was looking smiled.
  The flat was dirty. He lived in it. → The flat in which he lived was dirty.

- preposition after verb (more informal; we can leave out who(m)/which/that.)

  The woman whom/that I was looking at smiled. The flat he lived in was dirty.

1. Change these expressions to make them more conversational. Use that.

   - a boy with whom I went to school
   - a boy that I went to school with
   - the girl about whom I was talking relative what It was just what I wanted.

We can use what to mean 'the thing(s) which/that' or 'anything that'.

Have you got what you need for your journey? (= '... the things that you need ...')
I'm sorry about what happened. 'Can I have something to eat?' 'Take what you like.'

We use what with a singular verb.

   6 The thing that I need is some food.

2 Write a sentence beginning What I need is ...

You can take anything that you want. (NOT ... anything what you want.)

SECTION 19 indirect speech

grammar summary

When we tell people what somebody said or thought, we often use indirect speech. Tenses, here-and-now words (like this, here, today) and pronouns (like I, you) may change in indirect speech. This is because the time, place and speaker may be different.

'I really like it here.' Bill said that he really liked it there.

We often leave out that, especially after common verbs like say and think.

Bill said he really liked it there.

Indirect questions have a different structure from direct questions.

'What is your phone number?' He asked me what my phone number was.

'Do you like cherries?' She asked me if I liked cherries.

We can use object + infinitive (with to) after ask and tell.

I asked him to make some coffee. She told the children not to make a noise.

pre-test: which units do you need?

Try this small test. It will help you to decide which units you need. The answers are on page 284.

1 Correct (✓) or not (✗)?

   ✓ I said Peter where was he going.
   1 A man asked me where the post office was.
   2 I said I’m really tired.
   3 John asked how did I feel.
   4 I asked somebody where was the station?
   5 Can you say me what the time is?
   6 Mary asked me to help her.
   7 I didn’t know if I was late.
   8 I didn’t know whether I was late.
   9 I told Ann to not worry.
   10 Jake told that he wanted a holiday.
   11 Do you know where all those people work?
   12 Joe phoned me on Sunday and said he went to a great party yesterday.

They told me, Heraclitus, they told me you were dead,
They brought me bitter news to hear and bitter tears to shed.
I wept, as I remembered how often you and I
Had tired the sun with talking and sent him down the sky.

(William Cory)

There are so many kinds of awful men — One can’t avoid them all. She often said She’d never make the same mistake again: She always made a new mistake instead.

(Wendy Cope)
tenses and pronouns  Bill said he was really happy.

When we tell people what somebody said or thought, we often use indirect speech. Tenses and pronouns (I, you etc.) change in indirect speech if the time and speaker are different. For example, present tenses become past; I may become he or she; my may become his or her.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>SOMEBODY SAID/THOUGHT</th>
<th>INDIRECT SPEECH</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>'I'm happy.'</td>
<td>Bill said that he was happy. (NOT Bill said that I'm happy.)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>'I have a problem.'</td>
<td>I thought that I had a problem. (NOT I thought to have a problem.)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>'She likes me.'</td>
<td>He knew that she liked him.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>'My feet are cold.'</td>
<td>She said her feet were cold.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

We often leave out that, especially after common verbs like say, think.

Bill said he was really happy.  I thought it was a great party.

1. Put in the correct pronouns (I etc) or possessives (my etc).
   - 'She likes me.' He knew she liked him..........

   2. 'I'm sorry.' She said ....................... was sorry.
   3. 'Ann phoned me.' She said Ann had phoned ............
   4. 'We want our money.' They said .................. wanted .................. money.

We can use both say and tell in indirect speech. Tell must have a personal object: we tell somebody something. Say doesn't need a personal object: we say something (to somebody).

She told me I was late. (NOT She told I was late.)
They told Ann the wrong time. (NOT They told the wrong time to Ann.)
She said I was late. (NOT She said me I was late.)
I said nothing to the police. (NOT I said the police nothing.)

2. Circle the correct answer.
   1. I said / told the driver I wanted to stop.  5. Eric said / told the waiter he couldn't pay.
   2. My mother said / told there was a letter for me.
   3. Everybody said / told I looked beautiful.
   4. Why did you say / tell the lessons were expensive?
   6. I didn't say / tell Peter that I was going away.
   7. Nobody said / told me that the shop was closed.
   8. Ann said / told that she would wait at the bus stop.

3. Put the beginnings and ends together, and look at the use of tenses.

| In 1896 Lord Kelvin said | A aeroplanes were impossible. |
| In 1937 Hitler's nephew Willi said | B he would never be a scientist. |
| When Columbus got to America he thought | C his uncle was not interested in war. |
| When Albert Einstein was 10, a teacher told him | D the sun went round the earth. |
| Hundreds of years ago, people believed | E he had reached India. |

246  INDIRECT SPEECH
When we tell people what somebody said in the past, there is a time difference. (For example, somebody said something on Sunday, and I tell you about it on Monday.) Because of this, tenses usually change as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>DIRECT SPEECH ON SUNDAY</th>
<th>TENSE CHANGE</th>
<th>INDIRECT SPEECH ON MONDAY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>The children are in Ireland.</td>
<td>AM/ARE/IS → WAS/WERE</td>
<td>Karen said her children were in Ireland.</td>
</tr>

<td>He said his TV wasn’t working.</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>I forgot my keys.</td>
<td>SIMPLE PAST → PAST PERFECT</td>
<td>He said he had forgotten his keys.</td>

4 Rewrite the sentences in indirect speech, changing the tenses. Begin He/She/They said ...

- SALLY: ‘I’m tired.’ He said (that) she was tired.
- ANN: ‘My sister needs a car.’
- BILL: ‘I have to phone Andrew.’
- MARY: ‘Nobody wants to help me.’
- HELEN: ‘The radio doesn’t work.’
- JOHN: ‘I will be in Paris in July.’
- MIKE: ‘I like the red sweater.’
- DAVID: ‘I can’t swim.’
- ALICE: ‘My parents are travelling.’
- MARIA: ‘The lessons are very good.’
- ERIC AND SUE: ‘We haven’t heard from Joe.’

5 Look at the picture to see what John thought when he was small. Write his thoughts in indirect speech.

He thought animals could talk.

6 What did you think when you were small? Write one or two sentences.

If somebody said something that is still true when it is reported, tenses don’t always change.

‘My parents don’t write to me.’ —> She told me that her parents didn’t/don’t write to her.

For tenses after present reporting verbs (for example She says that she’s tired) see page 249.
Indirect questions have a different word order from direct questions, and no question marks.

DIRECT QUESTION: Monica said, 'Where is John?' I said, 'When can you come?'
INDIRECT QUESTION: Monica asked where John was. I asked when she could come.
(NOT Monica asked where was John?)

We don’t use do in indirect questions.

DIRECT QUESTION: 'What do you want?' 'Where does Andrew live?'
INDIRECT QUESTION: She asked me what I wanted. I asked him where Andrew lived.
(NOT She asked me what did I want.)

1 A policewoman stopped a driver in London and asked him some questions. Write the questions in indirect speech.

   - 'What is your name?' She asked him what his name was.
   1 'Where do you live?' .................................................................
   2 'Where do you work?' ................................................................
   3 'Where are you going?' ...............................................................
   4 'Where have you been?' ................................................................
   5 'What is the number of your car?' .................................................
   6 'Why are you driving on the right?' ................................................

With indirect yes/no questions we use if or whether. They mean the same.

DIRECT QUESTION: Do you know Tim? Are you French?
INDIRECT QUESTION: He asked me if/whether I knew Tim. She asked if/whether I was French.

2 The policewoman asked some more questions. Write them in indirect speech with if or whether.

   - 'Are you British?' She asked him if ...he was British.
   1 'Is it your car?' She asked him whether ...........................................
   2 'Do you have a driving licence?' .....................................................
   3 'Do you have it with you?' ............................................................
   4 'Do you always drive with the door open?' .....................................
   5 'Are you listening to me?' .............................................................

3 These are some of the questions from a woman’s job interview. Write them in indirect speech.

   - 'How old are you?' They asked her how old she was.
   1 'Are you married?' ........................................................................
   2 'Do you have children?' ...............................................................
   3 'Where have you worked before?' ..................................................
   4 'Why do you want to change your job?' .........................................
   5 'Can you speak any foreign languages?' ........................................
   6 'What exams have you passed?' ....................................................

248 INDIRECT SPEECH
present reporting verbs  She says she comes from London.

After present verbs (for example she says, I think) we don't change the tenses.

DIRECT SPEECH:
'Well, yes, I come from London.' 'Funny - she has a Scottish accent.'

INDIRECT SPEECH:
She says she comes from London, but I think she has a Scottish accent.

1. Complete the indirect speech sentences.

   ➤ 'I'm Irish.'
   ➤ 'Where is Peter?'
   ➤ 'Did John phone?'
   ➤ 'We live in Greece.'
   ➤ 'I went to Belfast yesterday.'
   ➤ 'I've been ill.'
   ➤ 'It's going to rain.'
   ➤ 'I'll ask my sister.'
   ➤ 'We're going to be rich.'
   ➤ 'Is lunch ready?'
   ➤ 'Where did I put my keys?'

   He says  he's Irish.
   She wants to know  where Peter is.
   I don't know  if John phoned.
   They say
   She says
   He says
   She thinks
   She says
   They believe
   He wants to know
   I don't remember

We can ask questions politely by saying Do you know ...? or Can you tell me ...? + indirect question (see page 248).

Where does she live?  ➔  Do you know  where she lives?

Is he at home?  ➔  Can you tell me if he's at home?

2. Rewrite the questions.

   ➤ What does this word mean?
   ➤ Is there a lesson today?
   ➤ Where can I buy tickets?
   ➤ How much does it cost?
   ➤ Has John phoned?
   ➤ Must I pay now?
   ➤ Does Maria like steak?
   ➤ Where did I park the car?

   Do you know  what this word means?
   Can you tell me  if there's a lesson today?
   Can you
   Do
   Can
   Can
   Do

We can also use indirect questions in answers.

Sorry, I don't know where she lives.  I can't remember if he's married.

3. Don't give the answers! But write sentences beginning I know, I don't know, I'd like to know, I don't want to know, I don't care or I can't remember.

   ➤ Who built the Eiffel Tower?  I know who built the Eiffel Tower
   ➤ 1. What languages do Irish people speak?
   ➤ 2. What do elephants eat?
   ➤ 3. Does the British Museum open on Christmas Day?
   ➤ 4. Was King William II a tall man?
   ➤ 5. Do birds dream?
When we tell people what somebody said, we may have to change words like here, this, today and now. This is because the place and time have changed since the words were spoken.

BILL IN IRELAND IN DECEMBER
- I like it here.
- I'm going fishing this week.
- I'm not working today.
- What do you want to do now?

JOE IN LONDON IN MARCH
- Bill said he liked it there / in Ireland.
- He said he was going fishing that week.
- He said he wasn't working that day.
- He asked what I wanted to do then/next.

1. Match the direct and indirect speech expressions.

I suggested that he should take the train. OR I suggested taking the train. (But NOT I suggested him to take the train.)

⇒ For other verbs with object + infinitive, see page 122.

2 Read the letter and then complete the text.

Dear all,

Sorry I haven’t written for a few weeks. I’ve been too busy. I’m having a great time; I’m going to parties every night. I’m doing a bit of work too. We had an exam last week. I hope I’ll get good marks.

I only have one shirt - I’ve lost the others. Mum, can you buy me six more? And I can’t find my raincoat. Is it at home?

My room here isn’t very nice - I’ll have to look for a better one. And the food here in college isn’t much good, so I’m living on hamburgers. I’ve spent nearly all my money. Dad, can you send some more?

Can you give me Aunt Ellen’s address? And I haven’t heard from Sarah. Where is she living? And does John want to come and spend two or three days down here with me?

That’s all for now. Love to everybody.

Joe

In his letter Joe said he hadn’t written for a few weeks. It was because he was too busy. He had a great time, but he also did some work too. He said he had an exam in the week, and he hoped he would get good marks.

Joe mentioned that he only had one shirt, because he lost the others. He asked his mother to buy him six more. And he asked for his raincoat at home.

His room wasn’t very nice, he said, so he had to look for a better one. And because of the bad college food he had to spend all his money on hamburgers.

He said he nearly had all his money, and asked his father for some more.

Joe also asked his family to give him his Aunt Ellen’s address. And he asked them that he had heard from Sarah, and asked to go and spend a few days with him.

Some prepositions are difficult, because they have more than one meaning. (A preposition in one language often has several different translations into another language.)

In this section, we explain and practise the most important prepositions: those that we use to talk about time, place and movement.

- For since and for, see page 61.
- For the place of prepositions in questions, see page 137; in passives, see page 101; with relative pronouns, see page 242.
- For -ing forms after prepositions, see page 132.
- For verbs followed by prepositions, see page 136.

grammar summary

In spoken English, we often leave words out if the meaning is clear. This often happens after auxiliary verbs.

She said she would phone, but she didn’t. (= ‘... she didn’t phone.’)
I’ll finish the work as soon as I can. (= ‘... as soon as I can finish the work.’)

There are several common kinds of short spoken sentence made with subject + auxiliary verb:

- question tags: You’re from Scotland, aren’t you?
- short answers: ‘Did you see Patrick?’ ‘No, I didn’t.’
- reply questions: ‘I’ve got a headache.’ ‘Have you? I am sorry.’
- so do I, nor can I etc: ‘I was really cold on that bus.’ ‘So was I.’

We also often leave out infinitives (and other words) after to.

I’ve never seen the Taj Mahal, but I’d like to. (= ‘... I’d like to see the Taj Mahal.’)

And we may leave out small words (pronouns, articles, auxiliary verbs) at the beginning of sentences.

Don’t know. (= ‘I don’t know.’) Train’s late. (= ‘The train’s late.’)

Been waiting long? (= ‘Have you been waiting long?’)

10. Lost your key? ... question tags  This music isn’t very good, is it?

Question tags are short questions that can follow sentences, especially in spoken English. We make question tags with auxiliary verb (have, be, can etc) + pronoun (I, you etc). We use question tags to ask if something is true, or to ask people to agree with us.

You haven’t got my keys, have you? Ann will be here tomorrow, won’t she?

This music isn’t very good, is it? That child can run fast, can’t he?

Question tags are usually negative (➡) after affirmative (➕) sentences, and not negative after negative sentences. We don’t put question tags after questions.

It is warm, isn’t it? It isn’t cold, is it? (But NOT: Is it cold, isn’t it?)

Negative tags are usually contracted (see page 277) – for example isn’t it? (NOT usually is it not?) The negative tag for I am is aren’t I? (see page 277)

I’m late, aren’t I?

1 Question tag or nothing (→)? Circle the correct form.

I’m late, am I /aren’t I? / – ?
You can’t swim, (can you?) / can’t you? / – ?
Has Ann phoned has she? / hasn’t she? / – ?

1 You’ll be here tomorrow, will you? / won’t you? / – ?
2 The postman hasn’t come, has he? / hasn’t he? / – ?

3 Are you ready are you? / aren’t you? / – ?
4 It’s dark in here, is it? / isn’t it? / – ?
5 He can’t speak Greek, can he? / can’t he? / – ?
6 The train’s late, is it? / isn’t it? / – ?
7 The food wasn’t bad, was it? / wasn’t it? / – ?
8 Have you done it have you / haven’t you? / – ?

If the sentence has an auxiliary verb or be, we use this in the question tag.

You would like coffee, wouldn’t you? I’m not talking too fast, am I?
Ann doesn’t eat meat, does she? You aren’t angry with me, are you?

If there is no auxiliary verb, we use do/does/did in the tag.

They went to Spain, didn’t they? The lesson starts at 6.00, doesn’t it?

5 There weren't many people at the party, .........................................

If a tag asks a real question, we say it with a rising intonation: the music of the voice goes up.
If a tag just asks for agreement, we use a falling intonation: the voice goes down:

SPOKEN GRAMMAR 267
short answers  Yes, I have.  No, they didn’t.

To answer just ‘Yes’ or ‘No’ is not always very polite.
We often prefer answers with pronoun (I, you etc.) + auxiliary verb (be, have, can etc).
The auxiliary verb in the answer is usually the same as the one in the question.
‘Are you coming?’ ‘Yes, I am.’  ‘Have you phoned home?’ ‘Yes, I have.’
‘Can Ellie speak Spanish?’ ‘No, she can’t.’  ‘Did you watch the match?’ ‘No, I didn’t.’

Negative ( square ) short answers are usually contracted (see page 277): can’t, didn’t etc.
Affirmative ( circle ) short answers are not contracted: we don’t say Yes, I’m or Yes, she’s, for example.

1 Write short answers to these questions.

► ‘Do you like jazz?’ ‘Yes, I do.’
► ‘Are they coming home?’ ‘No, they aren’t.’
1  ‘Is it raining?’ ‘No, …………..’
2  ‘Has Joe phoned?’ ‘No, …………..’
3  ‘Do the children understand?’
   ‘Yes, …………..’
4  ‘Can I go now?’
   ‘No, …………..’
5  ‘Does your brother like sport?’
   ‘No, …………..’
6  ‘Do you want tickets?’ ‘Yes, …………..’
7  ‘Would your mother like coffee?’
   ‘No, …………..’
8  ‘Wass the film interesting?’
   ‘No, …………..’
9  ‘Are you ready?’ ‘No, …………..’

2 Give your own personal short answers to these questions.

► ‘Do you like coffee?’ ‘Yes, I do.’ ‘No, I don’t.’
1  ‘Are you thinking in English now?’ …………..
2  ‘Do you live in a town?’ …………..
3  ‘Do you speak French?’ …………..
4  ‘Is it raining now?’ …………..
5  ‘Is your English getting better?’ …………..
6  ‘Have you been to New York?’ …………..
7  ‘Did you watch TV yesterday?’ …………..
8  ‘Can you swim?’ …………..

We can use short answers to agree or disagree with things that people say.
‘It’s hot today.’ ‘Yes, it is.’  ‘You didn’t buy bread.’ ‘Yes, I did.’  ‘The train’s late.’ ‘No, it isn’t.’
If there is no auxiliary verb, we use do/does/did in the short answer.
‘Her hair looks nice.’ ‘Yes, it does.’

3 Write short answers to agree or disagree.

1  ‘You’re early.’ ‘No, …………..’
2  ‘It’s cold.’ ‘Yes, …………..’
3  ‘She sings really well.’ ‘Yes, …………..’
4  ‘The lesson starts at 5.00.’ ‘No, …………..’
5  ‘Bill didn’t phone.’ ‘Yes, …………..’

4 GRAMMAR AND VOCABULARY: things that people can do
Answer with ‘Yes, I can’ or ‘No, I can’t’.

1  Can you knit? …………..
2  Can you cook? …………..
3  Can you skate? …………..
4  Can you repair cars? …………..
5  Can you dive? …………..
6  Can you draw? …………..
7  Can you shoot? …………..
8  Can you ride a horse? …………..

[Images of knit, cook, skate, repair cars, dive, draw, shoot, ride a horse]
In conversation, we often ask short questions (auxiliary verb + pronoun) to show interest.

'I've just had a letter from Eric.' 'Have you?' 'Yes. He says he's coming back ...'

These reply questions are not really questions: they mean 'Oh, yes? That's interesting.'

Some more examples:

'John's getting married.' 'Is he really? Who to?'

'Ann and Peter had a lovely time in Greece.' 'Did they?' 'Yes. They went ...'

We answer negative sentences with negative reply questions.

'I can't see very well with these glasses.' 'Can't you? Maybe you should get new ones.'

1 Put the beginnings and ends together, and put in reply questions.

| 1 'Oliver didn't eat much.' | A 'Didn't he?' Perhaps he's ill. |
| 2 'I don't like this bread at all.' | B '.......................... I hope they're having a good time.' ... |
| 3 'The Smiths are in America.' | C '.......................... I'll get a different kind next time.' ... |
| 4 'My French is getting very bad.' | D '.......................... When's he going to bring it back?' ... |
| 5 'John's taken the car.' | E '.......................... I'll have a look at them.' ... |
| 6 'I can't understand these papers.' | F '.......................... You need to go to France for a few weeks.' ... |

2 GRAMMAR AND VOCABULARY: showing our feelings

Complete the sentences with reply questions and expressions from the box. Use a dictionary if necessary. Different answers are possible.

Congratulations. Good luck. I am sorry. I don't believe it. ✓
Say 'hello' to him/her for me. That's interesting. That's terrible.
That's a surprise. What a nuisance. What a pity.

► 'The Swiss have declared war on America.' 'Have they? I don't believe it.'

1 'I've just passed my exams.' ..........................................................

2 'I'm seeing Mary next week.' ..........................................................

3 'My job interview is tomorrow.' ....................................................

4 'Some trees can live for thousands of years.' ..................................

5 'John didn't get into university.' ....................................................

6 'My computer has crashed again.' ................................................

7 'I don't feel well.' .................................................................

8 'Andy and Paula are getting married.' .......................................

9 'I haven't got enough money to buy food.' ..............................

1. Circle the best answer.
   - Ann can't sing at all, _can she?_ / _she can't._
   1. 'I'm worried about Peter.' _'You are?_' / _'Are you?_' / _'Aren't you?_'
   2. 'Joe didn't phone yesterday.' _'Joe phoned yesterday.'_ / _'Didn't he?'_
   3. 'I'm feeling ill.' / 'I'm not feeling well.' _'Are you?'_
   4. 'Does John need help?' / 'John needs help.' _'Does he?'_
   5. 'Do you remember David.' / 'You don't remember David, do you?'
   6. 'I've got a headache.' _'You haven't.' / 'You have.' / 'Have you?_'
   7. 'They can stay with us, _they can?' / 'can't they?' / 'can they?_'

2. Read the conversation, and put in question tags (QT), short answers (SA) or reply questions (RQ).

   QT: 'Hello, Carol. Lovely day, _isn't it?_'
   SA: _Yes, it is._ How are you?
   RQ: _Have you?_ What's the matter?
   QT: 'You remember my brother's boy Bill, _1._'
   SA: _2._ He went to Australia, _3._
   RQ: _5._ That's nice.
   QT: 'Well, yes, but he wants to stay with me.'
   RQ: 'Oh, _6._ Is that the problem?'
   SA: _7._ I'm not very happy about it.
   RQ: QT: '8._ Why? You like Bill, _9._'
   SA: _10._ – very much.
   QT: 'And you've got a lot of room in that big house, _11._'
   SA: _12._ But would you like to have a young man living in your house all the time?
   RQ: 'No, I suppose not.'
   SA: _13._ Would you like some advice?
   RQ: '14._'
   SA: 'Tell him the truth. Say you like him a lot, but you don't want people in your house.'
   QT: 'I can't say that, _15._'
   SA: _16._ He'll understand. I'm sure of it.
   RQ: '17._ I don't know. Anyway, I'll think about it.'
leaving out words  Don't know if she has.

We often use just an auxiliary verb instead of repeating a longer expression, if the meaning is clear. This happens in question tags, short answers and reply questions (see pages 266-269), and in other sentences too.

'Get up! 'I am' (= 'I am getting up.')
I haven't seen that film, but my brother has (NOT ... but my brother has seen.)

We use do/does/did if there is no other auxiliary verb to repeat.

David said he knew the address, but he didn't really.

1 Make these sentences more natural by crossing out unnecessary words.

You said it wasn't raining, but it is raining.
1. He thinks I don't understand, but I do understand.
2. 'You'd better eat something.' 'I have eaten something.'
3. Alice said she would lend me her car, but I don't think she will lend me her car.
4. Eric was sure he would pass his exam. I hope he has passed his exam.
5. 'Will you write to me every day?' 'Of course I will write to you every day.'
6. I can't help you today, but I can help you tomorrow.

We often use to instead of a longer expression, if the meaning is clear.

'Would you like to stay with us next weekend?' 'I'd love to.' (= 'I'd love to stay with you.')
I don't play tennis, but I used to. 'Are you going to Scotland this summer?' 'We hope to.'

2 Complete the sentences, using the words in the box with to.

I'd like It's starting I'm trying ✔ I used she didn't want Sorry, I forgot They hope

'Can't you go faster?' 'I'm trying to.'
1. 'Are Sue and Dave getting married this year?' ..................................................
2. I asked her to dance, but .................................................................
3. I've never learnt to ski, but .................................................................
4. I don't speak German very well now, but ..................................................
5. 'Did you remember to phone Liz?' ......................................................
6. 'Is it raining?' .................................................................

In conversation, people may leave out 'small words' (for example pronouns, articles, auxiliary verbs) at the beginnings of sentences.

Must go now. Can't help you, sorry. Don't know. Car's not going well.
Seen Bill? (= 'Have you seen Bill?') Nobody here. (= 'There's nobody here.')

3 Write the complete sentences.

1. Couldn't understand what he wanted from me. ..................................................
2. Doesn't know what she's doing. .................................................................
3. Bus is late again. .............................................................................
4. Speak French? .............................................................................
5. Haven't seen them. ..........................................................................
6. Don't think so. .............................................................................

For sentences where we leave out that, see pages 241 and 246.
So am I. Nor can Pat.

To say that A is/does the same as B, we can use so + auxiliary verb (be, have, can, etc) + subject (note the word order).

'I'm hungry.' 'So am I.' (NOT 'So I am.') Sue's stopped her lessons, and so has Eric

If there is no auxiliary verb to repeat, we use do/does/did.

'My brother works in the theatre.' 'So does my cousin

1 Complete the sentences, using so.

- 'My job's boring.' (mine) 'So is mine.'
- 'My room gets very cold at night.' (mine) 'So does mine.'
- 'Ann is very interested in history.' (Alice)
- 'My grandfather plays golf all day.' (my father)
- 'I can swim under water.' (I)
- 'Peter wants a bicycle for Christmas.' (Mary)
- 'Joe has just got married.' (Eric)

In negative sentences we use neither or nor + auxiliary verb + subject.

'I'm not working today.' 'Neither am I.' 'Mary can't drive.' 'Nor can Pat.'

Bill doesn't like the boss, and neither does Jan.

2 Complete the sentences, using neither/nor.

- Joe didn't play very well, and (the others) 'Neither did the others.' OR 'Neither did the others.'
- The soup wasn't very good, and (the meat)
- 'Bill hasn't phoned yet.' (Annie)
- 'This dictionary doesn't show pronunciation.' (this one)
- 'I can't cook.' (I)
- His parents won't help him, and (his friends)

We can use short sentences (subject + auxiliary verb) to say that A is not the same as B

'I'm not going to school today.' 'I am.' Some people don't like modern art, but I do

'I like this music.' 'I don't.' The food was cheap, but the drinks weren't

3 Complete the sentences with expressions from the box.

appendix 3  capital letters (A, B, C etc)

We use CAPITAL LETTERS to begin the names of people, places, nationalities, languages, days, months and holidays.

Abraham Lincoln  New York  American  Arabic  Thursday  September  Christmas

We also use CAPITAL LETTERS for the most important words in the titles of books, films etc.

War and Peace  Gone with the Wind

And we use a CAPITAL LETTER for the first word in a sentence, and for the pronoun I.

Yesterday I went for a long bike ride.
Contractions like he’s, isn’t show the pronunciation of informal speech. They are common and correct in informal writing (for example, friendly letters), but are unusual in formal writing.

- With be, two negative forms are common: you’re not / you aren’t, she’s not / she isn’t, etc.
- With have, had, will and would, the forms with n’t are more common: we usually say I haven’t, I hadn’t etc, not I’ve not, I’d not etc.

- There is no contraction amn’t, but am not → aren’t in questions.
  I’m late, aren’t I? (But I’m not late, NOT amn’t late.)
